

FEDERAL POLICING*Counter Terrorism Information Officer Workshop (CTIO)*COURSE CODE: 000765*DATE:*October 8-10, 2019*LOCATION:*Mosaic Stadium*1700 Elphinstone Street*Regina, SK*S4P 2Z6*OVERVIEW

As part of a concerted effort by the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police – Counter Terrorism and National Security Committee (CACP-CTNS), the three day Counter Terrorism Information Officer (CTIO) workshop has been developed to increase awareness of first responders across the country. The Committee is mandated to harmonize the work of the Canadian law enforcement community in identifying, preventing, responding to and investigating criminal activities related to terrorism and national security threats. The Committee's aim is to strengthen intelligence led policing by involving the communities, training first responders to recognize pre-incident indicators and respond appropriately, thereby, enhancing public safety through the integration of first responders.

A first responder needs to be alert to indicators and warnings of potential terrorist activity that might otherwise go unnoticed and unreported. CTIOs are a vital link in keeping first responders knowledgeable about current terrorist tactics, techniques and practices. With this information, first responders will be better able to recognize these indicators, respond appropriately, as well as inform/educate others within their respective agency by enhancing awareness and operational preparedness relating to terrorism.

A CTIO will be an individual that serves as the principal point of contact between their agency and National Security. The identified CTIO will receive terrorism awareness training, information and intelligence from experience members working within the National Security environment.

Workshop sessions include:

- Guest Speakers and Case Studies
- Overview of the FR-TAP Program
- Terrorism Awareness
- Canada's National Security Environment
- Violent Extremism
- Critical Infrastructure
- And more

"F" Division NSES is pleased to offer this training which supports the RCMP's core policing mandate of National Security and is one of the strategic priorities of the RCMP.
